

ASX Release

26 March 2012

REDBANK ENERGY MARKET UPDATE

As foreshadowed in the Redbank Energy Group Interim Financial Report which was released to the market on 29 February 2012, Redbank Energy (ASX:AEJ) today advises that the repair of the plant generator at the Redbank Power Station has been completed. Accordingly, the plant has been returned to service and is now generating again.

Redbank Project continues to enjoy the support of its lenders in accordance with the Bank Support Agreement and remains engaged in constructive discussion with its lenders regarding arrangements following the expiry of the Bank Support Agreement on 31 March 2012.
